Stars is a 501(c)(3) Nonprofit Organization

Dear Friends and Supporters,

In 1970, South Shore Stars (Stars) was born out of a heartfelt need. Rosemary Wahlberg, alongside determined mothers and community leaders, envisioned more than just childcare. Since then, our unwavering commitment to quality early education, academic support, enrichment, and family child care has fueled our mission to break the cycle of poverty.

With a deep belief in these pillars, we expanded our reach to include middle and high school programs, all with the goal of enabling parents to work and nurturing each child's growth and well-being. Today, we proudly serve over 1,300 children and youth.

Our commitment to a diverse population emphasizes school readiness and academic achievement, while fostering healthy development and strong family bonds. With a comprehensive range of services from infancy to high school, we stand out as a vital organization in our community. Stars remains steadfast in our dedication to supporting families and creating brighter futures.

Stars' management expertise has earned praise from both private and public funders, ensuring high-quality programs, maximum enrollment, sound fiscal management, and compliance with all regulations. Continuous program evaluation ensures we meet our goals and effectively assess children's progress.

Over the past five decades, we have been a leader in advocating for historically underserved children and families. Through beginning new initiatives, identifying resources, and community collaboration advocating for impactful policies, we continue to advance our mission of empowering young lives.

We are thrilled to announce the Stars School & Learning Center, set to open in 2024, which will provide specialized support for students with learning based differences, including dyslexia and ADHD, from grades 1 to 5. This exciting addition is a testament to our ongoing commitment to meeting the unique needs of our students and empowering them to shine brightly.

We invite you to support "Stars Aligned," our upcoming event on November 16, 2023, where you can join us in celebrating our mission and those who are making a meaningful impact in our community.

Sincerely,

Dr. Jennifer Curtis, CEO, South Shore Stars
